of aluminum

Denegación de la hidroxicloro, la tetracuina y la clorofona adquirieron una gran popularidad en el país, ya que su uso se consideró más efectivo que el de los medicamentos convencionales.

During the "Kulturkampf" of the 1870s, religious communities like the Jehovah's Witnesses, the Society of Friends, and the Moravians were persecuted. In 1878, the government passed the "Religious Communities Law" (Gemeindegesetz), which allowed these groups to register as legal entities and receive certain rights. This law was a significant step towards religious freedom in Germany.

"Alpinum" je omešácké pojmenování někdy používané v rámci alpinského vývoje.
